

Interviewing an Earthbound Spirit

18 November 2017

A reader mentions a spirit believed to be George Michael. Since Mr. Michael is no longer and his soul was already interviewed, I won't ask "him" back BUT the idea of an Earth bound spirit or soul being interviewed is a good one.

A few reader questions, then mine.

RQ: Are Earthbound spirits offered help from Angels, and guides to move on, and why?

C: Of course and always, if that is the plan. Sometimes it is not. What is called often "free will", the authority and autonomy to make decisions, operates the same for a soul without importance to where the soul, the energetic being, might be. There is no need, requirement or obligation for a soul to move on to anyplace different, after the expired function of a human body on Earth comes to be. It is not common, for many reasons, yet it can be a decision the soul makes upon reaching the opportunity to depart the influence from and upon Earth human being density, or it can be a portion of a life plan.

RQ: They hang around earthbound?

C: They often can and do. We ask that dimensions be compared to radio frequencies and bands, such as frequency modulation or amplitude modulation. There are ranges of frequencies and these are used to tune into or align with a transmission made as part of the AM or FM bands. There are many frequencies above and below those assigned by humans for human use, just as there are sounds humans cannot perceive which certainly exist. Ask any dog.

A soul who chooses to remain on or close to the denser vibrations, or frequencies of existence humans use, is simply tuning in to the band the soul used when incarnated, excluding the higher bands or dimensions where a soul can also interact.

RQ: Are they scared to move on?

C: Sometimes yes, sometimes no. The existence of what would be called fear is really a resistance to leaving behind unfinished business as the soul sees this being necessary or a remaining strong attachment to the life lived and now complete. Sometimes this occurs because a physical life or incarnation ended before a soul wished this would happen.

Q: Is it sometimes detrimental to a soul, to remain as an Earthbound spirit?

C: Yes, but this word detrimental carries the human negative interpretation. It is not necessarily the case. All things can be made positive, if the view of opportunity for experience is taken.

I think it's time to ask a spirit doing just this to communicate with us, so I will preface the spirit's answers with ES, for Earthbound Spirit.

Q: Calling the nearest spirit, please come in . . . can any of you hear my "signal"?

ES: Yes, many of us. What's the question?

Q: I'd ask your name, but that's really the name you used when alive. Do you still use it?

ES: Nope, and it doesn't matter. That name only means something to humans who knew me, and most of us, alive.

Q: Are you ever devilish or demonic?

ES: Hell no, 'cause this ain't hell. I'd be outta here in a flash if it were!

Q: You're coming across like an American, at least in the way I'm hearing your speech.

ES: 'Cause I am, I mean I still am. I was an American, I spoke that way, I know how and there's no nationality or immigration after you die, so I am still what I am, like you'll always be for this life.

Q: Do you have Guardian Angel Guides around you?

ES: Doesn't everybody?

Q: Are they trying to get you to move on to another place?

ES: Yes, constantly and I'm procrastinating. So I tune 'em out. Don't listen to 'em.

Q: Are there types of reasons, categories maybe, of reasons why souls stay near or on Earth?

ES: Yes. Trauma, fun, pleasure, fear, unawareness.

Q: Trauma? Because of what?

ES: Being murdered. Like where a significant other kills somebody in a fit of rage or anger, then kills herself or himself. Usually himself, 'cause women don't do that nearly as often. If it isn't in the life plan, as an exit point, then it's traumatic but without physical pain. Most of the time those things don't involve suffering, even when they seem to. When there is a lot of pain, that trauma can make one of us stay behind.

Tragic accidents that aren't exit points, that does it too.

Q: What's fun about hanging around?

ES: Doing things impossible in a dense existence. Setting up pranks, being a peeping tom, stuff like that.

Q: What's the pleasure part?

ES: Taking life ending risks, like riding a motorcycle at twice the speed limit and crashing. Can't die, you just tumble, get up, instantly fix the motorcycle and keep going. Like real life video games.

Q: It's possible to manifest things?

ES: Of course, just like Heaven and just like humans can but don't know is possible.

Q: Do you try to establish telepathic communication?

ES: Yes, but the damned Guardians of most people block it. Something about disturbing their life.

Q: Do you communicate with other Earthbound spirits?

ES: Of course, both with words and telepathically. Like a person who is speaking words and signing at the same time. We even have clubs, groups of spirits who like any and everything humans do. That's how a club works, right?

Q: Humans have the idea spirits should move on.

ES: Humans have lots of ideas. Some are right, in fact most are, but some aren't. We don't have to or need to move on. Why can't a Chinese woman marry an African man? Human social pressure doesn't work, and it also usually only works short term with humans.

Q: Humans can't usually gain access to their more complete selves, so we focus on the physical and habits that carries. What about spirits?

ES: We usually follow the human habits, it's easier.

Q: Do all Earthbound spirits eventually leave and move on up?

ES: Usually we do it every day, it's the same sleep and the being awake pattern humans have to follow. Instead of sleeping, we move on to a place where we're not connected to Earth but come back when we get tired of that and want to come back.

Q: Do you eventually move along and forget about Earth?

ES: Nobody ever forgets about Earth, if they even know about it. No soul ever forgets about anything they're aware of.

Q: What benefit do you get from staying around?

ES: Life is good, right? Why stop? Not everybody thinks the grass is greener on the other side. I like being on Earth. Just because Heaven is good doesn't make Earth bad. It's why we come, it's why you came. Why everybody alive on Earth came here.

Q: Are there spirits who don't know they're "dead"?

ES: No, we all know the body died. We usually go to the funerals, like almost every soul does anyway.

Q: Are there confused spirits?

ES: Yes, just like with any group of humans.

Q: Can you split your soul and spirit and be in several places simultaneously?

ES: Yes, if we want to. That's pretty damned rare, though.

Q: Why?

ES: We don't want to, usually. Or we don't know we can, so some of us do not even try.

Q: Do you appear as humans to other Earthbound spirits?

ES: Usually but we can pick different human lives we're lived if we want to. Usually not, we wear clothes like we had on Earth, but no body odor, showers, washing or laundry. Imagine your favorite clothes, clean or smelly as you like 'em, with no fuss getting dressed, picking them out or worrying what others think.

Q: Can you see all of our Guardian Angels?

ES: Yeah, and they can see us too.

Q: So what's the purpose of hanging around?

ES: Same reason humans live in one place. Why move every week?

Q: This flies in the face of what we think is supposed to happen, life review, visit relatives, meet Jesus, Buddha, St. Peter, Lucifer, etc.

ES: Just like you're supposed to marry the opposite gender. Most do, so everybody has to? How about being single? Bisexual? Divorced three times?

Q: Do you torment people?

ES: Sometimes, not often and a lot of the exorcism stuff is a spirit taking over a human body for a while, to play pranks.

Q: People are not possessed by the devil?

ES: Nah, that's almost never. It's in the life plan when it happens.

Q: How can a human get rid of a spirit?

ES: Believe it's one of us then tell us to go away. Doesn't happen too much, 'cause humans are trained to think everything you can't smell, taste, see or hear doesn't exist. How many people think dogs are so smart, but they just hear sounds humans can't? Some people see us, don't like it and then they run around asking everyone else about it. They never acknowledge that WE exist even though they say they saw us! If you see us and don't want us around, say it our damned face! Your guides will make us go, just like that.

Q: Do our Guides and Guardians have that kind of power?

ES: Oh, hell yes! They can do things you can't believe, but you should 'cause they can and do. Never without your permission. They don't make your friends go away unless you tell your friends to go away, so if you don't tell us to scram, they let us stay.

Q: Do you ever harm a human?

ES: No, unless it's in that human's life plan but that kind of thing isn't left up to us, most of the time, the Guardians and Guides help coordinate that. We don't do that type of thing. We can't and almost never want to.

Q: Why does there exist a generalized human belief that something's wrong if a soul or spirit hangs around Earth and doesn't see the light and go to Heaven?

ES: Human societies. Why should people cry at funerals? When somebody doesn't, that's wrong, right? Or that's right, wrong?

Q: Earthbound spirits are not confused?

ES: Some are, as confused as shit! Which is a bad saying, now that you mention it, 'cause shit is not confusing at all. It knows what it is, and so does everybody else.

Sure, there are a few confused ones. We hope they see us non-confused ones but just because you put somebody in a group full of opposite ideas doesn't mean they adopt those ways of thinking. Some people run away and find a new group that agrees with 'em. Misery loves company. Confusion too. Better to share a jail cell than be there alone, uninformed and unloved.

Q: What was your name on Earth in a body?

ES: I ain't sayin'. I'd be recognized and so would everybody still on Earth who remembers, like friends and family. Ain't doin' that to them.

Q: Why hang around then?

ES: Why not? Everybody give me a good reason to go away from Earth and I'll think about that and then I'll call y'all hypocrites, 'cause YOU'RE on Earth. Why suggest I shouldn't?

Q: What do you do all day? Or all night?

ES: Whatever the heck I want! I don't worry about the rent, paying bills, rude people, bad family or paying for any gadget I feel like having and I get to do whatever I want. No cops, no jail, no whining wife and no regrets.

Q: Can you split your soul and be in two or three places at once?

ES: Yes, if I wanted to. Like you could date pigs, if you wanted to but you probably wouldn't. Or would you? Keep that to yourself.

Q: I'm doing my best to fit you into or find an answer that matches the human ideas of Earthbound spirits, and you don't fit the mold.

ES: Just like lots of humans don't fit molds. They make 'em.

Q: The Committee tells me there are less than a million Earthbound souls, like you.

ES: That's right, but there are billions of souls that visit Earth and a lot of them are veterans, graduates of the Earth School. I don't want a diploma and I don't want to get a real job. I like being a professional student. Just like with humans, some do things different from the patterns of the majority. We're called failures, or great successes depending on who does the looking.

Q: Are you planning to incarnate again?

ES: Nope, not until I leave or get kicked outta here.

Q: Who might kick you out?

ES: Some big ass Archangel, who thinks I'm too much of a disturbance to be left hangin' around. Won't happen, I'll probably just get bored some night, put the house up for sale and move to . . . I don't know. Or care yet.

Q: Do you follow humans and do what they do?

ES: All the time. I ride in planes, mostly in the empty seats and I love to follow in traffic, riding between the gaps between cars, and I especially like motorcycles.

Q: Do you have arguments with other spirits?

ES: Yes, if they get in my way or disagree with me. Not usually. I like to go to coffee shops and watch Guardian Angels watching over their charges. Reading books and magazines over peoples' shoulders.

Q: What do you find most interesting about humans? Observing for example?

ES: Listening to the politics and the bullshit, knowing what's true and what isn't. It's like comedy.

Q: What happens if a soul plans a life, death and then adds to that an experience doing what you have?

ES: The plan happens.

Q: Earthbound spirit, whatever your name was, thank you.

ES: No problem, I had and still have all the time in the world. I live according to Earth time, and I don't at the same time. Get it? At the same time. Bad joke, I know. Take care, see you somewhere, sometime. Come see me when I can show up and you can see me, after you pass on. It's a little bit down the road of life, but it'll seem like 5 minutes from now when it happens and we can go ride dirt bikes in Arizona or New Mexico or maybe Utah? Later
