

Raising Vibrations

1st March 2020 (1 + 3 + 2 + 2 = 8)

Why was six afraid of seven? 7, 8, 9.....

Publisher mailing list membership drew my attention to a book title along the lines of "Raising Your Vibrations for The New Something" and if you have already read or know about the book (released by Ozark Mountain Publishing) please don't castigate me; I don't and haven't .

Speaking of reading books, [Sidebar folks....] I've done it from time-to-time, usually ingesting a half dozen per year, sometimes in Spanish. A few consumed the last few years:

Title	Author	Remarks
Confederacy of Dunces	John Kennedy Toole	Hilarious and entertaining!
Cinco Esquinas	Vargas Llosa	Nobel Prize author, says it all
Pantaleón y Las Visitadoras	"	"
The Sun Also Rises	Hemingway	"
For Whom The Bell Tolls	"	"
Del Amor y Otros Demonios	García Márquez	"
Memoria de Mis Putas Tristes	"	"
The Rosie Project	Graeme Simsion	Lovely story
Island at the Center of the World	Russell Shorto	The USA begins
To Kill A Mockingbird	Harper Lee	Touching story
Go Set A Watchman	"	Reality arrives for Scout
In Cold Blood	Truman Capote	Superb chronicle
Go Ask Alice	Anonymous	Different and Good
The Last Juror	John Grisham	Mississippi whodunit
Kite Runner	Khaled Hosseini	Very good
The Master Of Everything	James Nussbaumer	Wow
Mastering Your Own Spiritual Freedom	"	More wow
And Then I Knew My Abundance	"	Triple Wow

Okay, enough of that and we turn to the topic of the session.

Q: Esteemed Committee, often this term comes up and my interpretation is that it means improvement. Am I on or off track?

C: This depends on the track you wish. The route you prefer, and more likely the destination.

Q: Okay, what destinations are available as they relate to raising vibrations?

C: All, they are not dependent upon one another. Raising vibrations is an effect, not a cause. It is a symptom, not a catalyst.

Q: What do authorities on the topic, such as the author of the book I mentioned, mean when using the phrase?

C: Many things are meant and understood by the many who say it. We shall say simply, that one should not try to raise vibrations for the sake of the vibrations. They do not control, manage, manipulate or mitigate anything. Vibrations simply reflect what is causing them.

Q: Do the colors and their changes in a person's aura reflect vibrations?

C: Yes. The frequencies of light is its color, shade, hue and tint and mean different things.

Q: Can a person become more accepting & forgiving or angrier & bitter, very quickly upon seeing something suddenly, then have their aura colors change just as fast?

C: Of course, a body's aura is its soul shining through. You may turn extremely angry and your aura will flash red very quickly to any observer.

Q: Why can't humans see other people's auras?

C: Two reasons, first so that you may see what is next to them and second, so that you will feel their aura, not just look upon it and ignore everything but what your eye organs detect.

Q: What does somebody do, what can be done, to make vibrations increase?

C: First, ignore the vibrations themselves. We offer a comparison; does music you like very much sound better if received through a station broadcast on 88.7 FM or 106.5 ??

Think good thoughts towards others. Look upon people you either know or do not know. Think of their life, what good things it has given them and what other good things it could have. Think if you could give the person you see good things, even if you do not know what such improvements would be. If you had the power to give another person health, tranquility, peace, love of and from their family, their spouse and their children at no cost to yourself, would you.

The good news is, you CAN give a person these things, with your thoughts. Set aside confirmation of the effect and believe that if you wish a person to have a better anything with their spouse, the good will, energy and desire you offer will reach both the target of your intentions and also other involved who could improve for your target and themselves.

Doing this will cause your vibrations to rise.

Q: Ok, so we turn up our frequency and voilà! That woman is suddenly having wild whatever with her boyfriend, husband, girlfriend or somebody, maybe several and they're all enjoying each other more. I have no idea and probably don't want too many ideas but...what happens to me afterwards? I sent her a desire for improved relationships and...what?

C: Like frequencies attract, we again refer to radio... how pleasant is it to reach a station after much static. Your rising vibrations, as a rising tide lifts all boats, will tune your radio to receive vibrations in and of a similar range. You will feel better.

Q: That's it? Think good for and upon others?

C: That is it. Your vibrations will rise as fast and as high as you wish, with repeated, consistent goodwill directed towards others.

Q: How common is it to hear, and sadly sometimes observe, the ever happy person described as being called naïve, simplistic and worse. Is such a happy person really happier?

C: Yes. You would love a walk in their shoes and you can do this, with your own shoes.

Q: Simply think good thoughts?

C: Yes, upon anything you see and enjoy. Thank the oceans for the waves, water and soothing sounds you hear and like. Thank the trees for their shade, oxygen and beauty. Thank the dogs for their fun, love and protection. Thank the humans around you for their company. Show benevolence and gratitude at anything you find pleasing or in need of some. Help where you can, assist when not asked.

Q: Thank you, Esteemed Committee.

C: Welcome you are, all of you, as always and forever. Do return one and all when you wish.
