

How do the HCPs operate?

20 June 2022

As a reminder, my self-created nickname comes from Hidden Controlling Power, elsewhere sometimes referred to as the:

- cult
- illuminati
- new world order
- cabal
- deep state

I ask The Committee to answer my questions about how they operate.

Q: If the HCPs exert significant, controlling influence on society in general, across the world, how do they achieve this yet remain hidden, concealed and beyond detection?

C: Compartmentalization and delegation, they operate through proxies.

Q: Do we know who the proxies are?

C: Yes, their names and identities are well known but their participation in the master scheme is never revealed.

Q: Why are they never revealed?

C: The HCPs have complete, total and unwavering loyalty to their interests. The proxies who they employ understand intrinsically that if the proxies were to reveal who they are and what they know, and how they do it, almost nobody would believe them, so the effort would prove futile.

Q: Why don't their proxies ever try it?

C: They do, but are forced to keep quiet, or sometimes silenced.

Q: How can the HCPs affect so much world behavior yet remain hidden? This means they never act directly, correct?

C: There is no shortage of willing subordinates enslaved to their own egos, desires and wants. It is not difficult to twist, sway or coerce a key person into acting as a proxy.

Q: How can the HCPs do it?

C: The subject proxy to be controlled is slowly, gently yet consistently reinforced to believe s/he is superior, capable, intelligent and lucky, starting from a time when s/he finds it very difficult to resist the lure of power.

One method used is to offer secretive information, which is power. Knowing what the vast, vast majority of mankind does not know develops a sense of authority and control which the subjects find intoxicating. They revel in their power. They are addicted to it.

Q: How can they become this way?

C: Just as a person can become addicted to the attention and love of, from and to their children. Unlike the nearly universal instinct to protect a child a parent, especially a mother nearly always feels, it is also possible to develop similar love and affection for other people, if the process is begun later in life.

Q: Okay, turning away from HCPs a moment, let's focus on the subordinates. How are proxies recruited, motivated and maintained?

C: This is more complicated, but the process has been fine-tuned and safeguarded.

Q: How is it safeguarded?

C: As we mentioned earlier, compartmentalization. Each subordinate is given knowledge and information necessary for his or her role as a proxy, but is never allowed to know the greater scheme. S/he might suspect more is happening but can never know the goal or the strategic steps of the plan followed to reach the goal. If what s/he learns is revealed, it is never material to the overall plan, and s/he is nearly always backed up by an alternate.

Q: Can't the subordinate proxies just quit?

C: Of course, but their wealth, power and the control which flows from them, are cut off. They are told this at certain points and sometimes shown examples of proxies who in fact & deed, rebel to become ostracized from the position.

Q: What incentives and rewards are they given?

C: Financial and emotional.

Q: How big are the financial rewards for the proxies?

C: Enormous, sufficient to live a life of luxury and comfort beyond any realm of possibility.

Q: How do the rewards get taken away for resisting?

C: Their bank and investment accounts are made to disappear. The rewards are never offered in ways the proxy can control, but the ways the wealth is given are similar and often better than what the proxy her or himself would do anyway. This maintains control over those accounts in a way such accounts can be made to disappear. If that step is taken, the proxy is informed of the consequences. Nobody outside this process would believe the tale of woe if the proxies stripped of wealth were to complain, and the paper trail which proves the wealth was once held in the name of the proxy, goes up in smoke.

Q: Can't a subordinate proxy keep paper records?

C: Of course, and these can be made to disappear also but more than likely they are denounced as fraudulent. The proxy subordinate knows s/he cannot reveal this information without generating overwhelming questions about the source of the wealth, which is far beyond even what corruption would provide them.

Q: Doesn't a crisis of conscience ever take over a proxy?

C: Yes, but so few are willing to both lose it and face imprisonment that dealing with a rogue subordinate becomes very rare. Thus it is easy to paint one as a skilled and corrupt leader, to sew enormous doubt into the minds of the general public about the character of the attempted whistleblower.

Q: Do the subordinates operate under a cloud of fear all the time?

C: No, almost never. They are almost never asked to do anything which is not their proper job, they rarely see what they do as illegal or immoral. To the contrary, they often believe their decisions truly are the right thing to do, and to be so splendidly rewarded for that feels to them as if they have been given a willing lottery ticket.

Q: From where do the HCPs get wealth?

C: The printing press, which they control.

Q: In other words, they control the monetary authorities?

C: Oh yes. The HCPs created them, the central banks.

Q: So the federal reserve system in the USA is an HCP creation?

C: Yes, as are all organizations which issue currency.

Q: The eurozone?

C: It was created by the HCPs also.

Q: Do subordinate proxies ever get "disappeared" if the poverty punishment doesn't or isn't expected to work?

C: No, not necessary. Simply forcing them through a private, financial defrocking and stripping them of their power is enough. If they complain, they come across as a crazy person, and proxies all understand this.

Q: Returning to the HCPs themselves, how do they maintain control yet remain undetected and undetectable?

C: They use many layers of subordinates to carry out orders, commands and what are nearly always seen as instructions. The HCPs also use front organizations and people who operate them, to hold accounts.

If subordinates attempt to claim non-ownership of something which by every means and measure of ownership is theirs, they come across as crazy.

Q: Do the HCPs ever meet with subordinates?

C: Of course, but never in places the subordinate proxies frequent or normally appear. The meeting is always off campus, always off the ranch as it were, set up to appear as bona fide and as legitimate as anything else in the subordinate's life.

Q: How about a head of state?

C: These people travel all the time, it is quite easy to pass messages to them in just a moment or two.

Q: How did the HCPs arrange for the coronavirus, as you have explained to us?

C: Corrupting the needy, who were more than willing to work against their perceived adversaries even without fabulous rewards. The corrupted ones became all the more willing to do it for a lifetime of wealth and comfort.

Q: Wealth which can be made to disappear in an instant?

C: Yes.

Q: What exists to keep a check on the HCPs?

C: Nothing, they have free reign to act as they wish, and they do.

Q: Most people would say this is a paranoid conspiracy, because none of it can be proved.

C: You now see how general ideas and attitudes operate to enforce the will of the HCPs?

Q: What would happen if the HCPs simply faded away? Their existence and presence just ended; no more orders, commands, rewards or punishments?

C: Not much immediately, however soon general improvements in human development would occur.

Q: Are the HCPs flamboyant people who flaunt wealth?

C: No, they have no reason or desire, because they have so much. Compare one to a cattle farmer; how much beef can be eaten and how often before the rancher grows tired of it? The HCPs can only have so many things before they cannot have and do not need any more. Their addiction is to power; they are smug beyond what you can imagine and truly believe their existence and activities are necessary to maintain human order and development.

Q: In the USA, the forty fifth president seemed to do many a thing to improve economics but that all now seems forgotten. Wouldn't good economic tides be attractive to the HCPs?

C: No, there exists no such concern for them. They have unlimited wealth; they can print and create whatever money they need. They trade in control.

Q: How could the world rid itself of them?

C: Simple; shrink your governments. If you do not know what percentage of a nation's national product output is collected as taxes, read into this topic and see how it has increased over the most recent one hundred twenty years. This analysis will demonstrate how the HCPs have risen to influence our outright control the entire world.

Q: Thank you, Esteemed Committee.

C: You are all welcome, as always.
